

Welcome to LendMeYourLiteracy!
Your child's writing could soon be published for our worldwide audience on www.lendmeyourliteracy.com

Dear Parents/Carers,

I am writing to tell you that your child's writing could very soon be published on www.lendmeyourliteracy.com, a website that shares and celebrates children's writing from around the world. It's very quick to register for free on the site and then you can view children's work from Willow Tree in our school's gallery, in the latest posts on our homepage and also in our school's LendMeYourLiteracy Portfolio (also accessible from our homepage).

Through LendMeYourLiteracy YOU can have a significant impact on your child's writing. Just by spending a few minutes to leave positive, simple comments and encouraging other family members and friends to do the same, you will have a real impact on your and others' child's confidence, belief and motivation to write. Please consider leaving comments on other children's work too to share your inspiration with them.

Yours sincerely,

Jonny Davies
Regional Teacher for LendMeYourLiteracy

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads 'H. Davey'.

Helen Davey
Headteacher